Benefits

Citizens

Q-Life brings improved access to affordable Broadband. Your local ISP now has more choices for quality connections to the Internet.

Healthcare

Cost savings, better patient care, access to world wide medical resources and telemedicine services to rural areas.

How it works

Local Internet Service Providers (ISP), schools, colleges, medical facilities, local government and businesses connect to the Q-Life fiber optic ring. Q-Life is a member of Northwest Open Access Network Oregon (NoaNet Oregon), a statewide cooperative of electric utilities, local governments and Indian Tribes who have built a new fiber optic backbone around Oregon. NoaNet Oregon's fiber optic network connects at Portland and Seattle to the world wide Internet.

Schools

Q-Life reduced costs and provides large bandwidth connections between schools for distance education and new resources for students.

Business

Affordable access to the Broadband fiber optic network through Certified ISP's brings new resources, cost savings, access to global markets and improves our economy.

Government

More efficient local government, better service to citizens and improved public safety.

Global

Q-Life connects the Mid-Columbia region to the world with modern fiber optic telecommunications. Distance is no longer a barrier!
